

09 The Living Room

“The living room is too often a formal/intimidating space, and I believe that it should be inspiring and inviting. Cozy, sumptuous textures and rich blues in my own living room instantly make me feel relaxed and comfortable. I love how the Hunt Slonem wallpaper envelopes the space and signifies this as a special room. I continued Slonem's neo-expressionist bunnies into the accessories for a bit of humor, proving that art does not need to be pretentious. Cozy, creative, and chic coexist beautifully in this most treasured room in my home.” —Meghan De Maria, founder and principal designer at Moss Design
